

Well-known Canadian garden expert Mark Cullen has been working with AGCare and the Ontario Soil and Crop Improvement Association for the last number of years to help promote the Environmental Farm Plan program.

Our campaign with Mark has been focused on the theme of “What gardeners can learn from farmers” under the premise of letting gardeners at home apply the principles of the Environmental Farm Plan to their own homes and gardens.

This spring, we have completed three short videos featuring Mark on location in a Niagara region greenhouse interviewing grower Sietse Elsinga. Sietse and Mark talk about different aspects of the Environmental Farm Plan and how Sietse’s applications in the greenhouse could be used at home.

The videos have been uploaded to YouTube. The themes are Know Your Soil, Benefits of Mulch and Conserving Water. The direct links to YouTube can be found below.
